Manager's Tenure Again In Doubt

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Town Manager
J. Maynard Austin

J. Maynard Austin will be acting town manager as of Friday, and his tenure is in question.

The selectmen, meeting Tuesday night at the Water Treatment Plant spent four hours reviewing the manager's tenure and failed to unanimously conform to a statement issued in April which said that Austin would be continued on for another two years.

Selectmen Chairman Susan T. Poore, Richard J. Bowen and Philip Salamone said after the session Tuesday night, that Austin would be informed of the board's decisions and proposals, based on "legal problems which have arisen." It is believed the legal problems center on whether the board can appoint a manager for any period other than a five year term, according to dictates of the charter.

Austin said Wednesday he would not have any comment until such time as he had seen the formal statement issued by the selectmen to him and had time to digest it.

It is believed that the majority of the board wishes him to continue as an acting or temporary manager.

A vote taken at the meeting on Tuesday night to formally extend Austin's appointment for another two years, following through on their announced intention in April, was defeated three to two.

Selectman Edward M. Harris and Albert Cole, the two members elected in March favored the extension, the three other members opposed.

Austin is reported to have been agreeable to a two-year extension prior to the April announcement.

There was also a vote, four to one to offer the manager a temporary or acting manager position. Harris opposed this based on the April commitment.

Selectmen Bowen said that the legal matter had arisen within the past week. The legality centers on whether the board can appoint for anything other than a five

Robert A. Walsh

Chairman To Shun Return

Dr. Robert A. Walsh, a member of the board of health for over 30 years and its chairman for the past several, has informed Town Manager J. Maynard Austin he is not available for reappointment.

Austin, in expressing his appreciation along with that of the town for Walsh's service to the community, has asked for applicants for a replacement.

The manager said this week that Walsh informed him earlier of his decision not to seek reappointment to another three year term.

Walsh began his service with the health department in 1946 when he was appointed milk inspector.

He was elected to the board of health in 1956 and has been reappointed to that post since the inception of the town manager charter in 1958.

A professor and dean at Massachusetts College of Pharmacy, Walsh has served as chairman and director of the Andover Chapter, American Red Cross and director and president of the Andover Visiting Nurse Association.

To Ask Funds For Memorial

The October town meeting will be asked to appropriate some funds to establish a memorial to Andover men who sacrificed their lives in the Korean conflict and Vietnam war.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen said at the conference session of the board Monday night he would insert an article calling for an appropriation of $2,500 to complete the project now underway in Ballardvale.

The memorial tablet, stone and flag pole will be erected in the plot of land next to the Ballardvale Community building.

Bowen earlier this year had noted that the town had memorialized those who served and sacrificed in all but the most recent wars and suggested that tribute be made.

It is hoped that the work will be completed in time for Memorial Day in 1978.

Everyone's Now Working Legally

The selectmen this week took action to legalize all town employees who have served since the inception of the town manager charter.

Somewhere along the line it has been determined that legally, the selectmen must approve all appointments made by the town manager, regardless of their designation or area of responsibility.

It had been determined that such had not been the case since 1958 when the town manager form of government went into effect, thus to cover everyone a strictly legal motion was made by Selectman Philip Salamone Monday, ratifying the appointments of all municipal employees since 1958.

Suit Filed Against Town

An Andover couple has filed a $65,000 suit against the town for damages allegedly caused to their home by backed-up sewage.

Robert and Judith Van Der Zee, 1 Napier Road, this week filed suit at Salem Superior Civil Court. The couple maintain the town has breached a contract made with them for providing service as it failed to properly design, construct, maintain and repair the sewer system.

They also are suing the Dorchester Mutual Fire Insurance Co. in Boston. The couple claimed the company has refused to compensate them for damage under their insurance policy.

Town Manager J. Maynard Austin reports the Van Der Zees allege that town sewage backed up onto the first floor of their home while they were away on vacation.

Many Still Waiting For Units

Selectmen Monday night approved a change in technical requirements connected with the Andover Housing Authority's redistributing of funds under the Chapter 8 — subsidized housing — contract.

An amendment to an original contract was approved to allow the AHA to carry on with the program.

During discussion of the overall housing authority programs, Executive Director Thomas Walsh reported that there were about 60 applicants on file for the subsidized housing program and 186 on file for elderly housing units.

Shawsheen Vs. The Vale Sunday

"The Villagers" will be at it again on Sunday as Ballardvale Community group visits the Shawsheen Neighborhood group for another afternoon of softball, games, refreshments, etc.

The first meeting was hosted by the Vale group on the Fourth of July weekend and the return engagement was planned then.

General rules for the afternoon festivities are aimed at having fun, with the threat that anyone who takes the softball game seriously or possibly attempting to keep score may be banned from the keg area.

Safety Prime Factor

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Alan Mackey asks all motor vehicles operators to make safety their prime consideration when driving over the Labor Day weekend when so many family groups will be using the highways.

"I have assigned specially trained enforcement personnel to highway accident prevention duty from Friday, September 2 through midnight, Monday, Sept. 5, one of the busiest weekends of the year, in an effort to keep accidents and deaths at a minimum. They will be posted in trouble areas and will pay particular attention to speeding, driving under the influence, failure to obey signs and signals, and other moving violations."

Citations will be given to law breakers and, in serious cases, drivers will be removed from the highways according to the Registrar. Violators face court action and probable suspension or revocation of license and/or registration. Those convicted of moving violations face possible increases in automobile insurance charges.

The previous board of selectmen had extended Austin's initial five year contract for three years, the term expiring, Sept. 2. In January that board announced its intent, four to one, Bowen opposed, not to extend Austin's tenure beyond the Sept. 2 deadline.

Since that time, the board membership has changed, with Harris and Cole being elected in March based on their intent to retain Austin as manager during the campaign. Resignation of Allan F. French, in April, following the election, left the remaining members of the board in the position of electing another selectmen and chose Philip Salamone.

In late April, the four members of the board, Harris, Cole, Poore and Bowen, announced that they would extend the manager's tenure, releasing the following statement:

We accept fully our responsibility as the sole judges of the fitness of the town manager to continue in office, accountable always to the voters of Andover for our actions. It is the unanimous opinion of the Board of Selectmen that the term of the present Town Manager be extended as of September 2, 1977 for an additional two years in order to make his present term conform with the five-year term called for by the Town Charter.

The statement also noted the problems inherent in the charter provision calling for a five year contract and said the matter would be reviewed in the next three to six months, with an eye toward removing a time element.

As for the extension of the manager's tenure for another two years, a legal opinion was sought by a member of the board, and it was determined that such action could be taken and Austin continued in office.

But only the two members who were elected in March, and who sought the legal opinion, reportedly, supported that move.

The temporary nature of the appointment as of tomorrow, casts a cloud over the manager's position.

There was indication that at the Tuesday night meeting, there had been a move to offer Austin the job "temporarily." The provision included the possibility of seeking candidates for the post in the interim. This did not gain favor among the majority.

Selectmen Bowen said after the session Tuesday night that Austin had been informed of the board's action as well as the willingness of the board to sit with him and discuss the matter if he so requested.

As matters stand at the moment, after tomorrow Austin will be the town's acting manager, with full powers and responsibilities, but a future somewhat in doubt, pending the formal proposal to be reviewed by him later Wednesday.

The legal complexities of appointment duration may or may not be a factor, but the April decision announced by the board seems to have been altered at this point.

Warriors Begin Drills

You'd never know it from the 90-degree temperatures earlier this week, but the schoolboy football season has arrived.

Andover High, joining every other area grid team, began double session practices last Monday with early morning and evening workouts. This routine will continue until after Labor Day, and once classroom sessions begin the regular one-a-day afternoon practices will prevail.

The Golden Warriors once again have a large turnout, numbering around 100 players from the upper three grades.

The regular season is scheduled to begin on September 17, while the first Merrimack Valley Conference game is set for September 24.

Among the many top players expected back this autumn for AHS are quarterback Dan Welch, running back Rick Collins (son of longtime Andover Coach Dick Collins), and receivers Paul Farnham and Joe Terrion.

Raytheon Had Part In Plant

Glass containers are now flowing in quantity and on schedule from the new plant of Owens-Illinois, Inc., at Volney, N. Y., near Syracuse.

The new plant, which has a capacity of 700 million beer and beverage bottles annually, can produce both flint, or clear, and amber glass containers. Two new breweries in the area will be its major customers.

The 360,000-square-foot plant on a 100-acre site was designed and constructed for Owens-Illinois by the Boston office of United Engineers & Constructors, Inc., a subsidiary of Raytheon Company.

A computerized system controls the gathering, weighing, and mixing of raw materials in the 3,500-ton batch house. From there, the basic ingredients automatically go to the plant's three 300-ton glass melting furnaces which deliver molten glass at 2700 degrees F. to six high-productivity bottle forming machines. Automatic inspection and packaging equipment is utilized throughout the highly automated plant.

Recycling facilities have been made a key part of the new facility. Bottles, sorted for color and without metal caps or collars, are recycled with basic raw materials for glass manufacture. Starting in September, the new plant will purchase such used glass at $30 a ton or one and a half cents a pound.

Activities Conclude At Sanborn

The summer has come to an end with the last week at Sanborn Playground full of terrific events and activities. Rock creatures, lollipop people, whiffle ball, Capture the Flag and parachute games started off our final week. Thursday's trip to Canobie Lake was enjoyed by kids and staff alike.

Playgrounders ended their week at Sanborn with a whacky Olympics. Everyone, including the counselors, was involved.

The bubblegum blowing contest was won by Kim Guild in 5-8 year olds group, Mark Shapiro for the 9-10 year olds, and Mark Nardone for the over 10 group. Peggy Alexander was tops for the staff. The marathon for the 7 and 8's was won by Brian Cronin, followed by Mat Murphy and Mark Duncan; the 9 year olds were led by Steve Duncan, followed by Mark Shapiro and Karen Pike; the 10's and 11's had the amazing Robin Colombosian in the lead, with Jim Driscoll and David Workman taking second and third, and the 12 and 13 year olds had Joe Ganby way out in front with Alan Cail and Patty McParland following. The incredible Chris Lynch won the race for the counselors.

The backwards race was won by Brian Cronin for the 7 and 8's, Mark Shapiro for the 9 and 10's, Joe Ganby for those 11 and over.

The Shoe Scramble was very exciting with Cara Workman taking first and Heather Kocher taking second for the 5-7 year olds, Brian Cronin won for those 8-10, and Kim Byrne took first for the over 11 category.

The summer came to a terrific end with watermelon and a final trash hunt.

Girl Scouts Make First Major Changes

The first major program changes in Girl Scouting since 1963, for girls ages 6 through 11, are encompassed in "Worlds to Explore," a new combined handbook for Brownie and Junior Girl Scouts.

"Worlds to Explore" has just been published by Girl Scouts of the U.S.A., and will be implemented in the Merrimack River council in coming weeks. While the new book contains many new activities for today's and tomorrow's world, it also retains much that is familiar and traditional in Girl Scouting. In addition to the format, the chief innovations are projects for youngsters in the fields of science and technology, and the treatment of a career, as well as the home, as a natural part of a woman's life.

The change will affect nearly 800 Girl

Scouts in Andover and North Andover. Troop leaders are urged to attend one of the many training sessions coming up in the area.

The new combined program has five phases or "Worlds": World of Well-Being, World of People, World of Today and Tomorrow, World of the Arts and World of the Out-of-Doors. Each World offers a broad range of activities. Unlike the previous separate handbooks, girls can choose activities according to interests and abilities rather than age level.

The World of the Out-of-Doors expands on the traditional Girl Scouting involvement with camping, nature and conservation. Because girls are doing more at a younger age, for the first time Brownies are encouraged to go troop camping. There is greater emphasis on ecology and understanding of the environment — the living space that surrounds one — whether it's on a farm, in an urban apartment, a suburban house or mobile home.

In the World of Today and Tomorrow, the girls are introduced to the metric system, to carpentry, to simple scientific experiments, and insights into what the future can hold for them as working women. World of the Arts includes activities in the whole range of arts — visual, performing and literary.

Activities in the World of Well-Being highlight physical and emotional health, nutrition, the home, safety, and consumer awareness among other topics. In the World of People citizenship projects are geared to developing appreciation of differing cultures and building pride in one's heritage.

Incorporated throughout the new handbook's five worlds are certain basics that have made Girl Scouting unique and that have stood the test of time, such as the principles embodied in the Promise and Law, the concept of service and international friendship.

Girl Scout registration will be taking place in local schools in the next few weeks. Girls and adults who are interested in finding out about the program may call the Girl Scout headquarters in Andover.

Jubilee Year England

Portmeirion

By Raymond B. DeRuisseau

Most schedules are of necessity bland affairs. Ours indicated an overnight stay at Portmeirion which we assumed was a hotel. It is that and much more. It is a whole village of surprises. Leaving Aberystwyth along A496 we crossed into Northern Wales and Snowdonia National Park, a vast area. In the late afternoon we arrived on a heavily wooded peninsula and began to see pastel colored buildings and signs of activity. Debussing, we were handed our room assignment in the Harbour Hotel. Many of our travelling companions were assigned self-contained cottages scattered about the village.

Situated on an estuary called Traeth Bach which opens to Cardigan Bay and the Irish Sea, Portmeirion is the dream realization of the highly esteemed English architect, Sir Clough Williams-Ellis. Here he has created an Italianate village resembling Portofino or Sorrento in a landscape of sea and mountains. Commenced in the early twenties at the close of World War I, it consists of, among other features, stately halls and mansions resurrected or dismantled at far away sites, moved piece by numbered piece and reerected as the architect's fancy dictated. Yes, there was a master plan but time and circumstance seem to have necessitated adjustments and compromises. Elaborate and fragile wrought masonry pieces were transported hundreds of miles and reassembled. The whole is a testimonial to high masonic craft. Architectural masterpieces, damaged or time-worn and in some cases scheduled for demolition were salvaged and fitted into the great jig-saw puzzle that kept Williams-Ellis adjusting and connecting toward his uninhibited dream. Portmeirion has been charged with being a "Home for Fallen Buildings" and even a folly yet it provokes what one writer said expressed his reaction; "...something between a scoff, a gasp and ecstasy."

The ecstatic melange is a conglomeration of clapboard shops and cottages around a little courtyard. High above is a large Florentine dome. The Town Hall (in name only, it serves no governmental function) is Jacobean. The eighteenth century Colonnade was moved here stone by stone in 1959. Staircases are everywhere leading to unexpected arches and alcoves. Flowers abound. One strolls through flower-laden gardens or walks along cobbled ways with the prospect changing by the minute. There are even two golden Balinese dancers gyrating atop tall, stone pillars by the reflecting pool. One building

An up-train of the Festinoig line chugs toward the Dduallt "stop". At this point the rails are some 500 feet above the vale floor, affording splendid vistas of the Welsh countryside.

high on a hill struck us as being Grecian and, though highly improbable, another seemed to have all the earmarks of a Nantucket Salt-Box, but then we could only see part of it. At dusk when the lights come on, the effect is spectacular.

Of course, the village is the gilding on the lily. The hotel itself is of the Victorian bent. It qualifies for the term luxury and all the modern appurtenances are there; the continental cuisine, the heated swimming pool, the beaches and, of course, the golf clubs.

Portmeirion has taken its rightful place among the things to talk about on our trip in Wales.

The Festinoig Railway

American railroad buffs can have a field day in Wales. The Welsh advertise it as the land of the "Great Little Trains". We know of five lines, there are probably more, and they are fun.

The Festinoig Choo-Choo became our pet name for this little train. Actually it is the Festinoig Narrow Gauge Railroad and it has a long history.

Our special train was waiting for us when we arrived on the platform at Minfordd station. Greeting us was the station master who knows his trains. He asked us how the Edaville railroad was doing and he spoke knowledgeably about the Durango railroad in Colorado. He even knew about the long defunct Lynn narrow gauge line.

"What a darling little train", said our ladies. The rolling stock is superbly maintained and includes buffet and observation cars with panoramic windows. The paint is bright and the windows are clean and the seating is very comfortable. Our locomotive, its nameplate brightly announcing was the "Blanche". All the engines have names, all seven of them. It gleamed in the sun. The steam dome and all other brass fixtures sparkled and tender loving care was evident in every aspect of maintenance. And the rails, only one foot 11½ inches apart. The locomotives are now all oil fired.

The history of the train dates back to the beginning of the 19th century and it came into being to accommodate the needs of slate mining, a big industry then. Porthmadog is the water terminus and the line today runs up as far as Dduallt, 9½ miles away. It will reach Blaenau Festinoig, another 6 miles, when work now in progress is completed. That will reestablish the run as it was originally. Earliest engineering in the 1830s laid out a continuous gradient so that loaded wagons of slate could run down from the quarries to Porthmadog and waiting vessels. Horses, which pulled the empties back up rode down on the back of the gravity trains. The first steam engines went into service in 1863 with passenger service following two years later. As the tempo of freight and passenger traffic increased, more locomotives and carriages were added and the line attained its hey-day in 1870. Slate trade peaked in 1897 and use of the line began to decline but people provided a saving grace. Fresh traffic in the form of the holiday-bound using the Festinoig as part of tours into Northern Wales. Tourist traffic attained a 55,000 figure in 1934 but reverses led to steady passenger decline and no further trains ran after September 1939. Throughout the war slate trains ran as required but after the war, without money to rehabilitate the line, it was closed in August, 1946. Deterioration set in.

In 1951 a group formed the basis for the present Festinoig Railway Society, a voluntary supporting organization. The proposition was and is a "do-it-yourself" railroad. During the winter of 1954/55 volunteers, working mostly on week-ends toiled on the right of way and apprentices began working on the engines and rolling stock longin disrepair in their abandonment.

Service recommenced in July 1955 and by the end of 1956 22,000 passengers had been carried from Porthmadog to Boston Lodge and later as far as Minffordd. Work has continued and the line now has reached Dduallt. It hopes to reach its upper limit at Blaenau Ffestinoig in 1978.

The trip itself was a continuous series of scenic spectaculars. In Snowdonia National Park are located the mountains of Wales and they form a purple backdrop for the bright colors that adorn this landscape.

The little train chugs along climbing, climbing and clinging to the mountainside. At Coed-y-Bleiddiau it is at 500 feet above the vale floor. Clear streams gleam in the sun. Roads wind like ribbons below with nary a car in sight. Again, rhododendrons cover whole hillsides. Approaching Dduallt one sees an aquamarine lake completely surrounded by tall, deciduous trees. This gem is Llyn Mair.

Every now and then "Blanche" would sound its piercing whistle as it snaked around a curve, giving a longer blast than usual at the complete horseshoe turn. It was plain to see why folks on holiday take this train to points along the line, picnic and return on a later train. Assuredly a most relaxing experience.

In August which is peak tourist season, 13 trains a day run in each direction. 408,000 passengers were carried in 1973 and the number has grown considerably during the past four years.

Arriving at Dduallt we detrained and all trooped up to an observation point where it seemed we could see forever in every direction. Then back aboard for the trip back to Tan-y-Bwlch where our motor-coach waited to take us on to Caernarvon.

Most impressive to us in the whole performance was realizing that this successful venture works principally on a volunteer basis. The line employs only 40 full time employees. The pride that prompts coping with the heavy work entailed, such as maintaining the roadbed, says much about the spirit of the Welsh.

The Festinoig carries the sobriquet "The Most Wonderful Railway in the Kingdom". Not having been aboard the others we cannot judge, but all agreed it was wonderful.

Next we meet the first lady Mayor of Caernarvon in 700 years and see where Sir Edmund Hillary trained his party for the successful assault on Mount Everest.

The Longfellow Site, which served as the poet's home from 1837 until he died in 1882, and as George Washington's headquarters in 1775-76, is open daily, 9 to 4:30, at 105 Brattle St., Cambridge.

The Language of Flowers

by Gerry Trull

There are many different ground covers which can be substituted for grass in shady areas. Bunchberry belongs to the dogwood family. It bears red berries in the fall, and white flowers in the spring. It grows well in acidic soil and light shade. English ivy, one of the best ground covers, has striking dark-green leaves. It is a vine, so it grows away considerably from its original site. Periwinkle is a handsome plant, with its shiny, dark leaves. In the spring it blooms lovely blue flowers. Periwinkle grows equally well in the sun and the shade.

At TRULL'S MILL HILL FLOWER CENTER, 411 River Rd., 851-6161 you'll find many different flowers and plants to grace your home. "The love specialists," we feature flowers with a personal touch; give them to some one special today — you don't need a special occasion to show that you care. BankAmericard & Master Charge welcome. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas P. Collins

Collins - Mian

Laura Lee Mian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis W. Mian of Winchester, was united in marriage July 24 to Thomas Patrick Collins, son of Mr. John J. Collins and the late Mrs. Bridget Collins of Lawrence.

A 3 o'clock mass was said at St. Mary's Church, Winchester, with the groom's uncle, the Rev. Thomas B. Collins of Texas, officiating.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a Binachi gown of white organza fashioned with a Queen Anne scalloped neckline and bishop sleeves. The bodice was covered with Venice lace and the skirt and chapel train were trimmed with white satin ribbon interwoven with Venice lace. Her matching lace headpiece featured a fingertip veil of French illusion and flowered appliques of Venice lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of a white Georgiana orchid, miniature carnations, stephanotis, baby's breath and English ivy.

Mrs. Albert Pike of Burlington was matron of honor, wearing a pale aqua chiffon gown and carrying a crescent bouquet of carnations, sweetheart roses and baby's breath. She wore fresh flowers in her hair.

Bridesmaids included Mrs. Louis W. Mian, Jr., of Wilmington, sister-in-law of the bride; June Ciovacco of Hingham, the bride's cousin, and Cleliax Sorabella of Medford. They wore rainbow colors of Nile green, lavender and yellow, in styles similar to the honor attendant's, with matching cascade bouquets and fresh hairpieces.

The bride's cousin, Gabrielle Beacco of Flushing N.Y., was flower girl, wearing an apricot eyelet gown with ruffled neckline and flounced ruffle skirt, fashioned by her grandmother. She carried a bouquet of white miniature carnations, daisies, and apricot sweetheart roses. Mark Pozza of Norwood, another cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer.

Bruno Campea of Malden was best man, and ushers were Louis W. Mian, Jr., of Wilmington, brother of the bride; John Grady of Haverhill, cousin of the groom; and John Maglio of Revere.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Mian wore a tiered, seafoam chiffon gown fashioned by Yolanda, with matching accessories, and a pink cymbidium orchid corsage. Mrs. John Grady, the bridegroom's aunt, wore a yellow chiffon with matching accessories and a corsage of French roses.

The new Mrs. Collins, a graduate of Winchester Hill School and Boston State College, with B.S. and M.S. degrees in education, teaches in the Woburn Public School system. Her husband, a graduate of Boston College High School, received a B.S. in civil engineering from Northeastern University and an M.S. in aeronautical and astronautical engineering from M.I.T. He served three years in the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers and is currently employed by Stone & Webster Engineering Corp. in Boston.

The couple honeymooned in Bermuda and is now at home in Andover.

Re-Entry Program Has Openings

The Civic Center and Clearing House of Boston, a 20-year-old non-profit social service agency engaged in career and educational counseling and the placement of volunteers, has pioneered "Project Re-entry", an internship program for women.

This program is designed to offer women the opportunity to explore and expand career options by working in unsalaried internships of their choice. It is particularly suited to women who have been out of the labor market, or who have had no paid work experience or desire a career change. Project Re-Entry will operate for the second consecutive year, beginning in September.

Doherty, Shawsheen Win National Prizes

Andover's Doherty and Shawsheen Elementary Schools have been selected as winners in the 1977 Modernization Showcase. This program, co-sponsored in part by the American Institute of Architects and the School Product News, recognizes "significant efforts to improve educational opportunities by means of renovations, expansion, conversion or refurbishing of existing school or college facilities."

The two schools, designed by Johnson Hotvedt DiNisco and Associates, Inc. of Boston, were among 10 projects selected from a nationwide field of entries.

Prior to renovation, the Doherty School (20 years old) and the Shawsheen School (58 years old) suffered from inadequate lighting and mechanical systems, lacked the necessary flexibility to respond to the needs of the educational program and presented an overall dreary appearance. Their simultaneous renovation took place over a five-month period from May to September of 1973, an accelerated construction schedule which allowed the Andover children to start the school year without delay.

While maintaining design elements of the original buildings, the architects transformed conventional classroom layouts into flexible space by alternating high and low ceilings, by using color to delineate areas, by installing movable furnishings and equipment, and by providing for hanging plants, posters and storage space above the windows. The furniture (by Cameron-McIndoo of Toronto, Canada) is colorful and lightweight enough for children to move and assemble as classroom needs changed.

A special effort to reclaim space such as hallways and other unused area, resulted in increasing the combined school usable area by 10,000 square feet. The architect also collaborated in the development of a lighting system (manufactured by Lam, Inc.) which produces enough soft, non-glare light from two fixtures to illuminate an entire classroom. This light fixture (called Luxxtra), has an installation and operating cost of approximately half that of conventional light fixtures, and was first introduced commercially in the renovation of the Andover schools.

The renovations were not only economical at $10 per square foot, but they also allowed Doherty School and Shawsheen School to function on a parity with other Andover schools, transformed their personalities, and provided a bright and cheerful environment to which teachers and students alike have responded with great enthusiasm.

In addition to the awards, slides of Shawsheen and Doherty Schools will be shown at the Association of School Business Officials Conference in San Antonio, Tex. this fall, and the schools will be featured in the October 1977 issue of the School Product News.

Johnson Hotvedt DiNisco and Associates, Inc. has also done master planning studies at Phillips Academy, and are currently engaged as architects for the renovation of the Cage and the renovation and addition to the Memorial Gym at Phillips Academy.

classroom area for fifth grade. Spaces are created by flexible tables, chairs.

Oktoberfest Set For Weekend

The Exchange Club's fifth annual Oktoberfest will be staged in Lawrence over the Labor Day weekend.

Held in a gigantic tent set up in the Lawrence Municipal Parking Lot, the three-day affair will feature Oktoberfest beer and wine, specially prepared German food, and continuous music by the German Gesand Verein Lyre and Keith Gaberlien bands, as well as by guest entertainers. Souvenir booths will be run by the Exchangettes, wives of the Exchange Club members. The price of admission automatically makes the ticket holder eligible to win a Batavus Moped provided to the Club by Roby Meier.

The first of some 80 kegs of beer will be tapped at 6 p.m. on Friday, Sept. 2. Oktoberfest hours are Friday, until midnight, and Saturday and Sunday, 2 p.m. until midnight.

The Oktoberfest theme is a take-off on the German celebration, a national institution staged for 16 days in mid-September every year since 1810. The Exchange Club has made the Oktoberfest its number one project, and, during the past several years, close to $20,000 has been turned back to the community by the service club. The Cerebral Palsy Clinic in Lawrence has been a special recipient of financial support, but substantial monies have also been donated to such worthy endeavors as the block mother program, the Boy's Club, the Hart Scholarship Fund, the Boy Scouts, and the Freedom Shrine program.

Tickets for the Oktoberfest may be purchased from any Exchange Club member. For further information, contact Oktoberfest Chairmen Larry Yameen or Frank Duci. Active members of the committee include Pete Levesque, Al Torrissi, Don Gallant, Al Pappalardo, Joe Bell, Joe Hamilton, Bob Garland, and Bob Arnold.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that despite increases in construction activity, employment of construction laborers is expected to grow at a slow rate than the average for all occupations through the mid-1980's.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

The Haven has a new driver-custodian — Clarence Carter, who has joined Clayton Northey in fulfilling the driving of The Haven van and wagon. Ours, by virtue of the CETA program, Mr. Carter began his new duties last Monday. Wave a cheery "Hello!" to this new helper of Andover's elder citizens as he drives by.

You are reminded that commencing Sept. 8, the Andover Hot Lunch program returns to West Elementary School. Lunch is served at 12:45. The drivers begin their shuttle from The Haven and the other usual stops about noon. Be sure to make your reservation by phoning The Haven at either 475-3968 or 475-4165, no later than the day before you intend to go.

Mrs. Shirley Kennedy is the new senior aide and outreach worker at The Haven. She joins Jennie Feraci, who has been serving Andover for some time. Together they provide all kinds of help for senior citizens in Andover from visiting shut-ins to assisting in securing home assistance, etc. If you have a problem, call either Shirley or Jennie and they will help.

The Lawrence min-bus is available to assist Andover with transportation every Monday and Wednesday. It is available for doctor's appointments, shopping both local and mall, and will pick up in Ballardvale as well as Chestnut Court, Grandview Terrace and Frye Circle. Call The Haven at least 24 hours ahead of time so that you may be assured a place. This service is free to all Andover residents over 60. Use it!

Australia's estuarine crocodiles are the largest in the world, up to 26 feet long and weighing several tons, Massachusetts Audubon states. They are found ten miles at sea and 400 miles inland along rivers where they become trapped in ponds during the dry season and live on land animals that come to drink.

A 40-by-130 foot geothermally heated greenhouse gives the same annual yield as eight acres of land, Massachusetts Audubon points out.

Free Films For Community Groups

The Eastern Massachusetts Regional Public Library System will lend 16mm films from their collection of over 4,000 films to church groups, men's and women's clubs, scouts, schools, hospitals, nursing homes, and other community groups in Massachusetts. In order to borrow films, a group must have a Film Borrower's card (this is not the regular Boston Public Library card).

If you think your group would like to be able to show films this year — the films cover a wide range of subjects for all ages and interest groups — have your program chairman or organization representative stop in at the Interlibrary Loan office to complete the registration process. Films are ordered through the Library and arrive here by delivery truck so there is no expense involved in returning them to Boston.

Library Hours

The Library will be closed Monday, Sept. 5 for Labor Day.

Beginning Saturday, Sept. 17 the Library will resume its regular hours: 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday (the Children's Room closes at 5:30 p.m. on Friday), 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Children's Room News by Ruth Hooten

The Children's Room has finished its summer activities but if you are looking for an exciting way to end the summer, Boston's Museum of Fine Arts has a special exhibit titled "The Art From the World of Beatrix Potter". For anyone who has fallen under the spell of Beatrix Potter's animal characters, this is an exhibit not to miss. There are pictures of Miss Potter at various ages, "picture-letters" about animals written to young friends, the original Peter Rabbit books, sketches of the English countryside, drawings of her pets, and many other items.

Besides the art work, the Museum has a display of live animals representing the characters from her books, Gallery talks, the movie "Tales of Beatrix Potter", storytelling hours, and many other special events. The Children's Room has a schedule of events on reference that may be used for further information. Also, don't forget that the Library has Museum passes that you may reserve for free admission.

Bradford Celebrates 175 Years

Bradford College will begin celebrating its 175th anniversary with an alumni-parent-community weekend Oct. 14-16.

President Jack Armstrong visited Haverhill Mayor Lewis C. Burton Tuesday to invite city participation in the program.

The anniversary celebration will include a city observance in March and graduation ceremonies at the end of the school year.

An extensive program of concerts, exhibitions, open house shows, and cultural and carnival events is being planned at the college, while Bradford merchants are preparing their own participation in nearby Central Square, Haverhill.

Arts and crafts exhibitions and a flower display are being planned on historic Bradford Common, to complement the activities in the neighborhood. The Common's historic district and its prize example, the college's 17th century Kimball Tavern, will be the subjects of tours.

Copley Society

The Copley Society will present its Annual Fall Members' Exhibition Sept. 9 to 29, with the work of more than 60 artist members — paintings, prints, photographs and sculpture. The public is invited. Admission free. The Copley Society is located at 158 Newbury Street, between Dartmouth and Exeter Streets in Boston.

Sharing Accolades

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

I would like to express my appreciation for the accolades bestowed upon me in your August 25th editorial. While responsibility for fulfilling the duties of all positions is mine, I cannot take sole credit for the smoothness with which the Recreation/Community Schools Department has run these past three months.

From the Softball League (no small feat to coordinate) to program publicity, Linda Hughes, the Department's full time secretary since 1974, has handled flawlessly numerous duties previously belonging to the two Program Supervisors, leaving me more time to carry out the Director's administrative duties and general coordination of all programs. In addition, Linda has maintained or delegated her normal secretarial duties. Appreciation is also due our "part-time" secretary, Marilyn Staffiere, whose "few scheduled hours" have often turned into evenings at home with the scheduling book.

Our maintenance man, Ed Whitton, has kept my involvement with ballfields, playground equipment, the bathhouse and general maintenance to a minimum while supervising a crew of part-time summer and CETA workers.

I would also like to thank the members of the Recreation/Community Schools Advisory Committee who, in recent months, must sometimes feel that their professional careers are getting in the way of the tasks they have to perform for the R.C.S.D.

There are many others who have helped me maintain the Department and my sanity, and I am most appreciative of their support.

Joan S. Pearson
Acting Director, Recreation/
Community Schools Dept.

Suggestion

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

After reading the newspaper article entitled "Andover Eyes Plans To Improve Government" I investigated other similar situations in other places. A possible key, in addition to a questionnaire, could be to set-up a definite system through which people can offer themselves for a specific town board or committee.

Sponsored by an already-formed local group of informed citizens, a series could be prepared to acquaint residents with the town of Andover's government, its political, educational, cultural and religious activities. A series could feature a lecture and slides programming or a specially produced film of "Andover Our Home." The sessions could be free and could be held at a school auditorium inviting newcomers, young and old interested citizens.

Area-wide Chambers of Commerce could unite and offer their towns similar promotion for people to offer themselves in service for their community.

School Safety

The return of over one million school children to classrooms shortly after Labor Day signals a warning to drives to be on the alert for their presence on the highways.

Registrar of Motor Vehicles Alan Mackey urges strict compliance with the school bus law because more children than ever before will be bused to schools. "Drivers must stop when school bus lights are flashing for passengers to alight from or board same no matter in which direction they are going except when they are traveling in the opposite direction on a divided highway," Mackey said.

The presence of children should be anticipated at corners, intersections, crosswalks, near playgrounds and other recreational areas as well as in school zones.

Parents should pay special attention to children going to school for the first time.

"If drivers and parents are patient and work together, we can save lives and prevent crippling injuries," Mackey said.

Carlson In Exercise

Navy Machinist's Mate Third Class Scott A. Carlson, son of Elton A. Carlson of 20 North St., Andover, recently participated in Exercise "Comptuex 5-77" in the Atlantic Ocean and Caribbean Sea.

The exercise included 16 U.S. Atlantic Fleet ships and the six ships of NATO's Atlantic Standing Naval Force Squadron. "Comptuex 5-77" was designed to improve the individual combat readiness of each ship involved, by stressing all phases of naval operations, including antisubmarine, surface and anti-air warfare. Training included missile firings and gunnery exercises near Puerto Rico plus task group and electronic warfare operations.

Rear Admiral Paul C. Gibbons, USN, the commander of Cruiser Destroyer Group Two, was the tactical commander of the exercise.

He joined the Navy in July 1974.

WEEKLY SPECIAL

Energy Czar in Hill Doghouse

by Jack Anderson
with Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — President Carter's energy czar, James Schlesinger, is unpopular on Capitol Hill. Congressmen have complained to us that he has a "superior attitude."

His reorganization team, for example, is drawing up final plans for the new Dept. of Energy. Yet Schlesinger hasn't bothered to keep Congress informed.

Of course, Congress created the new department and its members don't like to be kept in the dark. At least one private protest has already been lodged by Sen. Charles Percy, R-Ill.

Percy fired off a confidential letter a couple of weeks ago demanding to see copies of the reorganization plans. So far, he hasn't even received a response.

Other members of Congress are threatening privately to write similar protests. One source told us Schlesinger has "too much power" and is keeping the plans "too close to his vest."

A White House spokesman assured us, however, that Percy's letter will be answered and that Schlesinger intends to work closely with Congress.

Solar Sounds: The National Aeronautics and Space Administration

(NASA) is making a dramatic attempt to communicate with beings beyond our solar system. It is a haphazard effort — a little like stuffing a message in a bottle and casting it upon the ocean.

NASA has launched a spacecraft, called the "Voyager," on a distant journey to Jupiter and Saturn. The ship is equipped with scientific instruments that will take soundings of the two planets.

Then the space craft will push on past Pluto, the last planet in our solar system, and into deep space. Somewhere in that vast void, an advanced civilization may be able to retrieve our primitive spaceship. The Voyager will contain a message for them.

This attempt to communicate with another world was the idea of Carl Sagan, a Cornell University astronomer.

Early this year, he persuaded NASA scientists to include a recorded message on the Voyager spacecraft. The record will contain the sounds of earth — greetings in 60 languages, animal noises, samples of music, natural sounds of surf, wind and thunder.

It's not even likely, Sagan told us, that the Voyager will enter another solar system. The vast distances of space are simply too great. The nearest solar system is 80,000 years away at the speeds we are now able to produce. And the Voyager is headed in the wrong direction.

Yet Sagan hopes that an advanced civilization has already mastered space travel. It is possible, just possible, that they could intercept the Voyager and listen to the record.

What kind of music will they hear? A Senegalese percussion number. A Peruvian pan-pipe melody. And rock star Chuck Berry doing "Johnny B. Goode."

Peace Pact: At the beginning of his term, President Carter had difficulty moving legislation through the House of Representatives. He couldn't seem to get past that great grizzly bear, Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill.

Now the president has learned how to get along with O'Neill. Carter merely has to grant the favors O'Neill requests, no matter how trivial.

As a result, the Consumer Protection Agency may be revived. It wasn't given much change to pass Congress, but the speaker has now promised the White House privately that he will throw his great bulk behind it.

This means the consumers may get a break, thanks to the fact that Carter has learned how to handle O'Neill.

Under the Dome: Two Jewish lawmakers, strangely, are fighting over Nazis. Combative Congresswoman Elizabeth Holtzman, D-N.Y., has introduced a bill that would ensure the deportation of Nazis who lied about their background when they came to the United States.

But Rep. Joshua Eilberg, D-Pa., whose committee has jurisdiction over Holtzman's bill, thinks hearings on it would be a waste of time. Holtzman, meanwhile, has accused Eilberg of holding her legislation "prisoner."

— It's been said that some politicians will do anything to win. A good example might be the Massachusetts politician who wanted to run for office and learned that he would have to deal with a large colony of Portuguese fishermen. So he went to school and learned to speak fluent Portuguese. His efforts paid off. Democrat Gerry Studds won his race for Congress in 1972, and was returned last November for his third term.

— Gardening doesn't sound like something that would start a feud between the White House and Congress. But it did. Rep. Fred Richmond, D-N.Y., wanted to start a national "Victory Garden" program, but White House aides didn't like the idea. The undaunted congressman pushed ahead anyway and started his own Victory Garden on a tiny plot right outside his Capitol Hill office.

Don't Drink the Gas: The Commerce Dept. is about to award an $82,000 grant to a small farming cooperative in Selma, Ala. In return for the money, the farmers will supply the government with ethyl alcohol, which will then be used in experimental fuel programs. How will the ethyl alcohol be produced? In a backwoods still. Ethyl alcohol, it seems, is the scientific name for good, old, down-home moonshine.

Junior Gridders Prep For Season

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Junior Football League is getting ready to launch its 18th season of competition for boys ages 10 through 13 years.

AJFL officials have conducted several pre-season meetings to date, and on-the-field tryouts will be held at the East Junior High Playstead field on Monday through Thursday, September 12, 13, 14 and 15.

All four sessions will begin at 5 p.m. and run until 6:30 p.m.

All players must register and try out at one of these times in order to be assigned to a team. A $15.00 registration fee should accompany the application.

The league, which consists of six teams, is for boys who will have reached their 10th birthday by September 1, 1977 and who will not attain their 14th birthday by January 1, 1978.

Boys must not weigh more than 120 pounds on the day they officially register for play, unless they are 12 years old or younger.

Birth certificates will be required at the time of registration for new players only.

All eighth grade boys must try out for their appropriate (East or West) Junior High School 7th and 8th grade teams, and be released by the coach after tryouts, in order to be eligible for the Junior Football League.

These boys must at that time obtain a release slip from the Junior High coach and present it to AJFL officials.

All coaches will be on hand at the tryouts, and the candidates will be grouped according to ability after the final session.

The league draft will follow, and boys will be notified which team they are on sometime thereafter.

All AJFL games are held at the Playstead on Sundays, with tripleheaders beginning at 12 noon each weekend for five consecutive Sundays.

This Fall the first set of games will be played on October 2.

The Central Colts, who have won a number of championships in recent years, are the defending titlists having posted a perfect 5-0-0 record last year with an incredible 101-6 scoring edge on the opposition.

Other teams are the West Andover Redskins, runners-up last year at 3-2-0, the Ballardvale Browns (2-2-1), the Indian Ridge Vikings (1-2-2), the Shawsheen Patriots (1-3-1) and the Bancroft Dolphins (0-3-2).

There are two new coaches in the league, and one other skipper has changed teams.

The rookie coaches are Joe Tisbert, who replaces brother Steve at the Redskins' helm, and John O'Connor who will guide the Vikings after succeeding Craig Hurst.

Hurst remains in the league, having jumped to the head post of the Browns. Returning as head coaches with the same teams are Frank Flanigan (Colts), Norm Wallace (Patriots) and Lou LoPresti (Dolphins).

Bill Walsh is the league president, while the three vice-presidents are Mike Sirois, Marty Solomon and former Browns' coach Bill Doherty. Rounding out the list of officers for 1977 are secretary Dick Asoian and treasurer Bob Merola.

Andover High varsity Coach Dick Collins and longtime AJFL prexy Ed LaFleur are advisors to the league.

Applications for the league can be obtained at The Sport Shop and at Barcelos Market, both on Main Street, Andover.

Following is the 1977 league schedule:

Sport Shop Tops Men's League

After an extra two weeks of play, it looks like the Men's Softball regular season has come to an end. With over a dozen games cancelled due to the rain, the season was sent into "double over-time." It all ended Monday night with a game between Whitworth's and Leone Oil who were tied for sixth place. Leone came out on top giving them a chance at the playoffs.

Looking at the standings: The Sport Shop came out on top with an impressive 22-2 record. The other teams in the five playoffs spots were only one or two games apart. Playoffs started Tuesday night and will go on for the next two weeks. Games are being played at Recreation Park starting at 6:15 p.m. Everyone is invited to come and watch the action.

Babe Ruth Tryouts Set For Sept. 17-18

The Andover Babe Ruth baseball team will hold two Fall workout sessions on Saturday, Sept. 17 and Sunday, Sept. 18 at the large Playstead Field at East Junior High.

The Saturday workout will run from 10 a.m. to 12 noon, while Sunday's workout will be from 2-4 p.m.

All Little League graduates, as well as other youngsters between the ages of 13 to 15 years, are eligible to participate.

The team has a maximum 15-player roster, and all spots on the club are open.

Andover recently completed its 1976 season in the Greater-Lawrence Babe Ruth League, posting a 17-10 record and a 20-11-1 overall ledger including non-league and three games in Montreal, Canada.

The locals placed second to North Andover during the regular season, and reached the championship playoff finals before bowing out to NA.

The team record over the past four summers has been 86-34-3.

The Fall workouts are conducted annually to determine who is most interested in trying out for the team.

The "official" tryouts will be held next Spring, several months before the 1978 season begins in late May. The team will be picked then.

Plans for next year's team include a fifth annual trip to Montreal in July, and several non-league games to go with the extensive G-L schedule.

Jockey Moved Down The Road

Jockey Paul Nicolo started his racing career almost within sight of Rockingham Park, but it took him four years before he ever rode at Rock.

Nicolo started as a groom at a local farm just up the road from the track and stuck it out for a year before changing employers. "It really was tough living in an unheated tack room during a New Hampshire winter," he recalls, "I was ready to pack it in that winter when former jockey Joe Datillo (now a Rockingham racing official) encouraged me to stay in racing and offered to help me get a job in Florida with trainer Ed Cantlon."

"Joe called Mr. Cantlon and the next thing I knew I was at Florida Downs. When Mr. Cantlon went north that spring he sent me to Florida farm where I learned to break yearlings and to gallop horses."

The Wellsley native made his riding debut in Florida under trainer Bryan Webb and soon was the leading apprentice rider on the Florida circuit. Nicolo became a top rider in Florida for the next two seasons, but decided to come north this year and went to Churchill Downs in Kentucky with Ed Cantlon and then came "home" to Rockingham.

The European rabbit, Oryctolagus cuniculus, lives in large colonies and digs complicated tunnels, Massachusetts Audubon tells us. In Medieval times, rabbits were raised in rabbit gardens with walls extending below the ground. In the 17th Century the English raised and bred rabbits; the Angora, or long-haired rabbit appeared around 1723.

Gardening Courses Offered

The Massachusetts Horticultural Society will sponsor more than 50 courses this fall and winter including several series on home gardening.

A free listing of all the courses will be sent to anyone who sends a stamped, self-addressed, business-size envelope to: COURSES, Mass. Horticultural Society, 300 Mass. Ave., Boston, Ma. 02115.

One example of the new series concept developed by the Horticultural Society is the "Beginning Indoor Gardener Series," which will offer three different courses from September through November.

The series will start with a plant workshop on basic care and requirements, continue with classes on pests and common problems, and conclude with sessions on plant names and needs.

Another series will be for the Greenhouse Gardener, starting in September with "Buying or Building a home Greenhouse," and continuing through the fall and winter with different courses on related topics, including classes on solar-heated greenhouses.

Other topics to be covered in series will be: Specialized Indoor Gardening, Landscape Contracting, Fruit and Vegetable Gardening, Preparing for next year's garden, Nature Photography and Fall

Flower Arranging.

Any of the courses may be taken individually. The Horticultural Society will also sponsor a number of other events including tours and lectures on job opportunities in the fields of horticulture, botany or landscape architecture.

A series of Holiday Craft Mornings will be held in November, in which students will pay $3 to learn how to make everything from terrariums to herb wreaths. After school sessions called "Kid-crafts," will show children how to make their own Christmas gifts and decorations from natural materials.

H-P Reports Increases

Hewlett-Packard Company today reported a 23 percent increase in sales and a 65 percent increase in earnings for the Third Quarter of the Company's fiscal year ended July 31.

Sales for the Third Quarter totaled $341,051,000, compared with $277,477,000 for the Third Quarter of Fiscal 1976. Net earnings amounted to $30,527,000, equal to $1.07 per share on 28,367,363 shares of common stock outstanding.

This compares with earnings of $18,472,000, equal to 65 cents per share on 27,899,098 shares during last year's Third Quarter.

William R. Hewlett, HP President, said "the performance of every Product Group continued strong in the Third Quarter, and our incoming orders were the highest in the Company's history. Orders amounted to $365.2 million, up 25 percent from orders of $291.1 million booked in the corresponding period of 1976. For the nine-month period, orders totaled $1.06 billion, up 26 percent from a year ago, when orders were $841.8 million."

Total sales for the nine months amounted to $980,931,000, a 24 percent increase over sales of $792,880,000 for the corresponding period last year. Net earnings rose 55 percent to $88,669,000, equal to $3.13 per share. This compares with earnings of $57,319,000, equal to $2.05 per share during the first nine months of 1976.

These net earnings were achieved after the Company had set aside approximately $3 million in the Third Quarter and $6 million for the first half (previously reported) to supplement retirement benefits to a large number of its U.S. employees. The effect on net earnings for the Third Quarter and nine months was approximately 5 cents per share and 16 cents per share, respectively.

Hewlett said "domestic markets were particularly strong in the Third Quarter, with orders from U.S. customers amounting to $197.7 million, up 27 percent from last year's Third Quarter. International orders rose 23 percent to $167.5 million."

For the nine months, domestic orders amounted to $563.8 million, up 32 percent from $428.1 million. International orders increased 20 percent to $497.8 million.

In a separate matter, HP Board Chairman David Packard reported on the estate of Flora L. Hewlett, who died in February. Mrs. Hewlett was the wife of HP President William R. Hewlett.

Mr. Packard said the executors of Mrs. Hewlett's estate have informed the Company that to meet estimated expenses and estate tax liabilities, it is their present intention to sell approximately one million shares of HP common stock in the form of a registered, underwritten secondary offering. The date of the offering has not yet been determined.

Strawberries A Colonial Treat

Strawberries were one of the true glories of colonial America. Roger Williams, founder of Providence in 1636, wrote that the strawberry was "the wonder of all the Fruits growing naturally in these parts. The Indians bruise them in a Mortar and Mix them with meale and make strawberry bread." Strawberry shortcake was thus invented by the colonists.

In 1954, Clarence Francis of Rio Grande College, Ohio, scored a record 150 points in a single basketball game.

Sign Language
Among Courses

Communication Through Sign Language, a popular non-credit course taught at North Shore Community College, Beverly, is undergoing plans for expansion in the 1977-1978 school year. The course is especially designed for teachers, social workers, speech therapists, and parents and friends of the hearing-impaired.

In the fall term beginning Sept. 6, sign language courses will be offered on the beginner and intermediate levels. The level I course teaches the basics of finger spelling (26 hand positions for the corresponding letters of the alphabet) and signs for the most common words in English. This course prepares students for further training in either American Sign Language (ASL) or Signing Exact English (SEE).

The level II course uses SEE to teach those who have taken the beginner course or its equivalent. Students will expand their vocabulary and have the opportunity to practice receiving signs and use finger spelling and signs to express themselves.

All courses are taught at the Beverly School for the Deaf by school staff members. The level I course has been divided into two sections: Monday nights at 7 and Wednesday nights at 6:30. The level II course will be held Wednesday evenings at 6:30. All sections meet for a total of eight weeks.

In the spring, an additional class will be added on the intermediate level.

The fall sign language courses are just a few of the more than 80 non-credit classes offered through the college's Division of Continuing Education and Community Services. The fall selection is unusually broad, including subjects such as antiques, Italian cooking, basketball, folk guitar and keypunch training. Twenty new courses have been added, some of which are held at the college's newest extension center, Masconomet Regional High School in the Topsfield/Boxford area.

Tuition for fall courses is $23 per credit, while tuition for non-credit courses varies with the class. Retired persons age 62 and older are entitled to a half-price tuition rate in any classes with adequate enrollments.

For further information or a fall catalog, call the college or write Division of Continuing Education and Community Services, North Shore Community College, 3 Essex St., Beverly 01915.

Water Rates To Be Decided

Andover's new water rates may be set at the next regular meeting of the selectmen on Sept. 12, and it would appear that a descending scale will continue to be used.

Monday night at a conference session on the matter, the board heard proposals from Public Works Director Robert E. McQuade and Town Manager J. Maynard Austin, which included both use of a scale rate and a flat rate.

Main intent of the increased rates is to put the water department on as near a business-like basis as possible, with the users paying their proportionate cost of the operations.

A goal of $1 million is sought for the coming year.

The flat rate of 71 cents for all users would approach that figure according to estimates of the administrators, but would not be an equitable manner if apportioning the costs to users.

The new rates would result in those at the lowest spot on the scale, minimum users, having an annual increase of about one dollar.

The other rates would reflect an increase from 56 cents to 71 cents for the Class II user — the average homeowner, who provides about 40 per cent of the revenue for the department.

Class II users — commercial or light industrial — would go from 50 cents to 62 cents and Class IV — industrial — would go from 52 to 55 cents.

McQuade told the board that this scale would result in an estimated $961,000 in revenue, or about $40,000 short of the goal sought by the selectmen.

McQuade said that the flat rate of 71 cents would not result in the department reaching its $1 million goal.

Some selectmen suggested that adjusting the figures in the second and fourth classes, could result in getting to that goal, but McQuade noted that there are other factors to consider.

Conservation methods could be used, particularly by industry. Weather conditions and general usage vary from time to time, he said which would also have an effect on the overall consumption by the town.

Selectman Richard J. Bowen suggested there could be some possible additional revenue to the department through providing a penalty for past due bills. It was agreed that a 10 per cent charge would be applied beginning with the next billing. Bowen said he never realized that there was no penalty until he suddenly realized that he had inadvertently missed paying his on one occasion.

It was generally agreed by the board that the scale method appeared to come closest to the desires of meeting their goal and asked the administrators to bring in some adjusted scales for the Sept. 12 meeting, at which time the new rates are expected to be set.

Square Dancers Active

The Twilight Twirlers Teen Square Dance Club has been very active this summer.

During Andover's annual Sidewalk Bazaar the teens in the club presided over their own penny candy, and spin painting booths. Those present at the Bazaar were entertained by the Twilight Twirlers with a demonstration of modern western square dancing and line dances.

Square dancing goes back as far as apple pie and to celebrate America's 101st year the club put on an exhibition at Andover's Fourth of July celebration.

Square dancing is for all ages. The club performed for the residents of the Towne Manor Nursing Home in Lawrence at their annual barbeque. The Twilight Twirlers also entertained shoppers at the Methuen Mall on Aug. 27.

Dance is a universal language. A group of visitors from Scotland watched the dancers at a Tewksbury church and then joined in after a New Hampshire caller taught them a few of the basics.

Summer is a time for recreation. Using the accumulated admission money from regular Friday night dances, the group took two trips this summer. The first was in July to York Beach, Maine. In August they travelled to the Mount Monadnock Recreation Area in Jaffrey, N. H.

Three summer dances were held at the homes of three members.

Low Cost Property Protection

A downtown merchant will probably never know how much low cost protection he had for his business Sunday night.

Seems a skunk ampled across Main street from Central street and went up Post Office avenue for a brief moment then returned to the main business thoroughfare moping along the sidewalk.

The black and white creature stopped briefly at one of the bank doors got up on its haunches and looked in and fortunately failed to make a deposit.

It then went along in front of a few more stores before finally curving up in a corner by the front door of one and dozing off for a while.

School Bells Chime Again On Thursday

Andover school bells will chime once again next Thursday morning, signalling the beginning of another 180 days of learning for local youngsters.

Regular schedules will start bright and early, with high school pupils due in their homerooms by the final bell at 7:45 a.m. Belltime at the junior highs is 7:35 a.m. and at the elementary schools, 8:30 a.m.

Homeroom assignments for high school pupils, as well as East Jr. High 8th and 9th graders and West Jr. High 9th graders, appear in today's TOWNSMAN. Homerooms for West 7th and 8th graders and East 7th graders were mailed out recently in letters to parents.

High school sophomores and seventh graders will have gotten a one-day jump on their friends, by appearing at their schools for orientation Wednesday from 9 a.m. to noon. The morning will include a "dry run" of their schedules and a few words of wisdom from school officials. Riders are to be at their bus stops at 8:15 a.m. and they'll be picked up at the schools about 12.

Regular bus routes also appear in today's paper, and Transportation Assistant Sam Arcidy notes that in an effort to economize, the schools will not furnish any late bus transportation for Grades 7 through 12 this year. That decision was made by the school committee last spring.

Teachers will also have had a head start, convening at 9 a.m. Tuesday in East Jr. High Auditorium to hear Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert launch their school year. They'll then retire to their respective buildings for additional faculty meetings and classroom preparations.

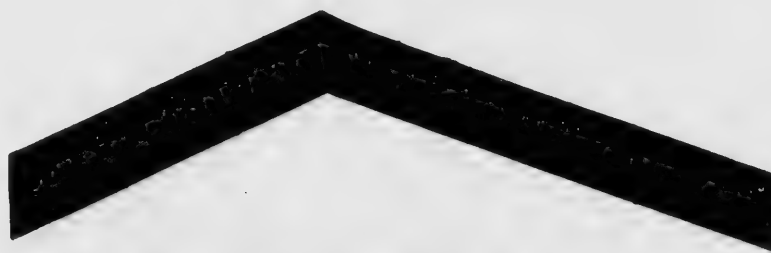

Traditional Expands

Once again one of the biggest changes is in the traditional school, which is going into its second year much enlarged. Whereas there was one class for each grade level last year, there will be two traditional classes for each grade, except Sixth at West Elementary this year.

To make room for the expansion, Principal Eugene Frulla notes that some of the special education classes have been moved to other schools.

The system also once again starts the school year minus a Number 2 man, Associate Supt. Harry Westcott having taken over the superintendency of a school

This year, for the first time, the TOWNSMAN, has put all pertinent information regarding the resumption of classes in this special 12-page package, which we hope will be convenient for all.

Andover School Bus Code

With the beginning of another school year parents are urged to instruct their children on the contents of the Andover School Bus Code as adopted by the Andover School Committee.

Students who violate this code, violate the rights of other students on the bus and possibly subject these students to undue safety hazards. Everyone shares equally in the responsibility of maintaining proper discipline and safety on the school buses.

Students

1. Only authorized students may ride the bus.
2. Obey the driver in all matters pertaining to the operation of the school bus. The bus driver is the representative of parents and teachers and is directly responsible for the safety of each student on his bus.
3. Exercise courtesy towards others while loading, riding and leaving the bus.
4. Arrive at the bus stop on time and wait for the bus on the curb or shoulder off the road.
5. Cross highways and streets only in front of the bus. Move away from the front bumper of the bus approximately 6 - 8 feet so the bus driver can observe your crossing. Do not run or dash into street or roads without looking both ways even though the bus driver has traffic stopped.
6. Avoid trespassing on private property and being nosy.
7. Board the bus in an orderly manner when the bus has come to a full stop and the driver has opened the door.
8. Take your seat promptly and if you must stand, grasp a seat bar firmly.
9. Assignment of seats is left to the discretion of the bus driver and/or school authorities. However, if seat assignments are made compliance is mandatory.
10. Remain seated until the bus comes to a full stop, then leave in an orderly manner.
11. Allow standees off first once the school bus has come to a full stop.
12. Do Not Talk to the driver while the bus is in motion.

13. Avoid actions that might distract the driver and result in a serious accident.

14. Keep your voice low, no shouting, whistling, rough housing, pushing, fighting or throwing objects.

15. Do not extend arms or any other parts of your body out the windows. Do not throw any objects or spit out the bus windows.

16. Do not smoke on the bus.

17. Ask the driver's permission before opening the windows.

18. Help keep the bus clean and report anything damaged in the bus to the driver. Do not eat or chew gum on the bus.

19. Keep books/bundles out of the aisles and do not carry heavy objects on the bus that might cause injury to other students. If you carry small animals on the bus for school projects, you are responsible for their containment while en route to and from school.

20. Ride your assigned bus and do not ask the driver to make unauthorized stops unless written permission is received from your parent and agreement is reached between the principal and bus driver.

21. Report any violation of these rules to your bus proctor, the bus driver or your teacher.

22. Violation of the above rules may result in suspension of your bus riding privilege.

Accident Procedure

1. Keep calm and follow the directions of the bus driver. Stay in your seat until the bus driver tells you what action to take.

A. Do not touch any emergency equipment until told by the driver.

B. In case of fire, leave the bus in an orderly manner and move to the nearest exit away from the fire.

2. If the driver is injured and unable to move, notify the nearest adult or contact the police or fire department on the nearest phone.

3. Report any injuries to yourself or other students to the driver.

Parents

1. Instruct children on the content of the bus code.

district in New Hampshire.

The major curriculum addition at the high school this year is the Night School, run in conjunction with the Vocational Technical High School, so pupils can take advantage of both.

Another change is the addition of German to the Language Department.

Required study skills and pleasure reading programs have been added to the 7th and 8th grade curricula at West Elementary. According to Principal William E. Hart, reading skills will be supervised by core team teachers and will be geared individually to students depending on their reading levels and in conjunction with other courses where possible.

For pleasure reading, each room will be equipped with paperback books approved by the head of the reading department and the librarian, and the youngsters will delve into them for one period a week.

High School Roof Accepted

The biggest news in the buildings department is that nearly a year after the work began, the high school roof has been termed "acceptable." Plant Engineer Al Hart took a close look at the roof last week with Jim Razzaboni, inspector of Simpson, Gumpertz & Heger which drew up the new roof plans, two representatives of the Thomas Construction Co., and Ralph Couture, senior custodian at the high school.

Hart said they are ready to issue the final payment for the reroofing job, and that the "guarantee period" will now start. The contractor guarantees construction for a period of two years. Hart said, and the Town Manager's office is intending to buy a 20 year bond to cover the materials.

Evening School

Registration for Evening School will be held on Thursday, Sept. 8, 7 p.m. in the Large Group room at the Andover High School.

Asst. Principal Wilbur Hixon noted that after last Wednesday's heavy downpours, there were no leaks, "and that's a good sign."

"We're sick of buckets around here," he said.

In addition to "the usual" thorough cleaning done over the summer in all the schools — stripping down and waxing floors, shampooing carpets, washing down furniture — all the gym floors have been redone, roof repairs have been made in all schools, plus some painting, paving repairs, landscaping, locker repairs, and the like.

New aluminum entrance doors have been installed in the high school gymnasium, the parking lot extended to take in about 54 more cars, and the music department "spruced up" with additional lighting and paint. Masonry work has been done on the East Jr. High steps, new concrete block partitions installed in the kindergarten area at Doherty School, and stage curtains replaced at South.

The maintenance department also moved facilities for the physically handicapped from West Elementary to Sanborn, providing special toilet facilities and ramp, and changing the width of the doors in former kindergarten space.

Perhaps the greatest improvements, Hart said, were made in the mechanical equipment, with thorough maintenance done on boilers, unit heaters and ventilation systems. He said much of the work was done with in-house labor, at a considerable savings to the town, and he added that it had been a "monumental problem to bring some of these "up to snuff."

But, he said, it was quite satisfying to know that we're going into another heating season with equipment all up to date.

Parking Increased

Increasing parking at the high school brings the total spaces for pupils up to about 100, but Asst. Principal Wilbur Hixon notes that in order to use them, pupils must get stickers from the school by presenting their licenses and registrations. Only seniors and work-study students are eligible.
